By John Leonard Knapp (b. 1767, d. 1845), a botanist of some eminence. He resided for at least the last 25 years of his life at Alveston, to which he often alludes [See pp. 5, 52 &c. and Glos. Notes & Queries, vol. i., p. 374.]

This work contains much valuable information for the Local Naturalist. The Author, as is shewn by the preface, was inspired to write it by The Natural History of Selborne and he endeavoured to do for the Vale of Berkeley what White had already done for the Weald of Sussex. His Journal was founded on a series of articles which he had published in Time's Telescope between 1820 and 1829, entitled "The Naturalist's Diary" [Dict. Nat. Biog., vol. xxxi., p. 236]. It was reviewed in the London Magazine, Ser. 3, vol. iii., pp. 495-504. It was published at 15s. Its present price is from 2s. 6d. to 5s.

Berkeley

PART II.—BERKELEY PEERAGE.

[The several claims to the Berkeley Peerage to which the documents mentioned under this heading refer, arose under the following circumstances. Frederick Augustus, the 5th Earl of Berkeley, went through the ceremony of marriage with Mary Cole, at Lambeth, on May 16. 1796, having, as he and his wife subsequently alleged, been previously married to her at Berkeley on March 30, 1785. Between these dates Lady Berkeley had been known as Miss Tudor, and the alleged Berkeley marriage had been kept secret. Four sons were born before the Lambeth marriage, of whom the two eldest were William Fitzhardinge (created Baron Segrave in 1831, and Earl Fitzhardinge in 1841), and Maurice Frederick Fitzhardinge (created Baron Fitzhardinge in 1861.) In 1799, William Fitzhardinge obtained leave to lay his pedigree before the Committee of Privileges of the House of Lords, and in 1801 he instituted a suit to perpetuate testimony, and after his father's death in 1810, he claimed to be summoned to the House of Lords as Earl of Berkeley. In this suit his claim was rejected, the Lords holding that the Berkeley marriage was not then proved. In 1828 he made a claim, which was also unsuccessful, to be summoned to the House of Lords as Baron Berkeley, basing his claim on his tenure of Berkeley Castle. A similar claim was made in 1858 by Maurice Frederick Fitzhardinge, who had succeeded to the Berkeley estates on the death of his brother, but he failed to establish it. Thomas Moreton Fitzhardinge, the eldest of the sons of the 5th Earl born after the Lambeth marriage, who had never assumed the title of Earl of Berkeley, died in 1882. In 1890 the earldom was successfully claimed by Randal Mowbray Thomas, a descendant of the 4th earl. This claim was opposed by Lord Fitzhardinge (the son of the 1st baron), and another attempt was made to establish the alleged Berkeley marriage of the 5th earl.]

Cheltenham

PART I.—GENERAL LITERATURE

1744. An Examination of the Cheltenham Mineral Waters, by Conradus Hieronymus Senckenberg; which may serve as a Method in general for examining Mineral Waters. Philosophical Transactions, vol. xli., pt. ii., pp. 830-834.

The Remarks on this article, signed "C.M.," were by Cromwell Mortimer [Gough's British Topographer, p. 332.] This volume, published in 1744, contains the transactions of 1740-41.

1750. A Sermon preach'd at Cheltenham, Before a Polite Audience, on Sunday, August 5, 1750. By the Reverend Edward Pickering Rich, A.M. London: Printed in the year MDCCCL. 4to. W.P.

Two Titles, Dedication "To the Would-Be Most Reverend Dr. Snead" and Prayer, 4 leaves; Sermon, pp. 7-11.

Rich was suspended for 3 years for preaching this extraordinary sermon. It is coarse and incoherent, and it seems probable that the preacher was mad. His suspension was made the subject of a discourse by Henley at his Oratory on Sept. 20, 1750.

—— [Another edition, same title down to "Rich, A.M."] Which occasioned his being silenced for three years. London . . . Price 1½d. 4to. W.P.

Title, Dedication, Prayer and Sermon, pp. 8.

1751. An Experimental Dissertation on . . . The Hyde Spaw near Cheltenham . . . See infra, PRESTBURY.

1781. The Cheltenham Guide; or, Memoirs of the B-N-R-D Family continued. In a Series of Poetical Epistles . . . [Quot.] London: Pr. for Harrison and Co. 1781. 8vo. B.M.

Title, Advertisement and Verses on "View from the Top of the Well Walk," pp. i.-x.; The Cheltenham Guide, pp. 11-110.

This work is not in any sense a Guide, but consists of a series of letters in verse describing and satirising life at Cheltenham. It purports to be a continuation of the once famous New Bath Guide, which was written by Christopher Anstey, and earned an extravagant eulogium from Horace Walpole. The Cheltenham Guide is not included in Anstey's Collected Poetical Works, and it is probably by another hand. "B-N-R-D" stands for "Blunderhead."

Dibdin, who wrote most of The History of Cheltenham, published by Ruff in 1803 notices this work at p. 125, and says that it ran through 5 editions in 1781, and was "built on" the New Bath Guide."

—— The Third Edition. London . . . 1781. 8vo. F.A.H.

—— The Fourth Edition. London . . . 1781. 8vo. C.H.D.

The third and fourth editions are duplicates of the first edition.

1785. A New Experimental Inquiry into the Nature & Qualities of the Cheltenham Water; with a concise account of the Diseases wherein it is chiefly indicated; and the Diet & Regimen, necessary to its successful use. By A. Fothergill, M.D., F.R.S. &c. Bath: 1785. 8vo. B.M.

Two Titles, 2 leaves; Errata, Contents and Introduction, pp. iii.-xii.; Text, pp. 13-71.

—— [Another Edition.] To which are now added, Observations on Sundry other waters: shewing how their Properties may be ascertained, their Virtues preserved, their Impurities corrected . . . with an Appendix on the Mephitic Alkaline water; A new and approved Remedy against the stone and gravel . . . Bath: 1788. W.N.S.

Two titles and Dedication, 3 leaves; Preface, Contents, and Quotation, pp. vii.-xvi.; Text, pp. 122.

1786. Observations on the Use and Abuse of the Cheltenham Waters, in which are included Occasional Remarks on different Saline Compositions. By J. Smith, M.D. &c. Cheltenham: Printed and Sold by S. Harward . . . 1786. Price 1s. 6d. 8vo. F.A.H.

Title and Advertisement, 2 leaves; Text, pp. 8-67.

This is the earliest work printed at Cheltenham which we have seen.

—— Second Edition: 1796. 8vo. J.P.W.

Title and Advertisements to 1st and 2nd editions, pp. i.-vi.; Text, pp. 1-58. The title is slightly changed.

—— A New Edition. Prepared by the Author, a little before his Death. In which Several Additional Remarks are occasionally interspersed . . . 1800. Price 1s. 6d. 8vo. F.A.H.

Title, Advertisement to the 1st and 3rd editions, and Text, pp. 1-61.

1787. Observations on a Late Publication on Cheltenham Waters: And on some Remarks of the CR—L R—RS upon a Treatise on that subject. By John Barker. Birmingham. 1787. 8vo. pp. 20. W.N.S.

1788. A New Experimental Inquiry . . . By A. Fothergill. See ante, 1785.

—— The first book of the Royal Chronicles, with The Tales, and Parables, of Peter Pindar, Esq. to the Royal Farmer, at Cheltenham Wells: With Notes, Poetical, Critical, Historical, and Explanatory. Translated from the Original Arabic of Ishmael Zaphnaphpaaniah Zerubbael . . . [Quot.] London: Price Two Shillings. 8vo. C.P.L.

Title and Text, pp. 48. A satire by Dr Wolcott on the visit of George III. to Cheltenham in July and August, 1788. During his stay there the King visited Cirencester, Tewkesbury and Matson, and attended the Musical Festival at Worcester. It has been stated that it was at Cheltenham that the first traces of his mental derangement made their appearance.

—— Royal Recollections on a Tour to Cheltenham, Gloucester, and Worcester, and Places adjacent in the year 1788. The third Edition. London 1788. 8vo. M.

Title, one leaf; Text, pp. 1-114.

This work purports to be a diary kept by George III. during his visit to Cheltenham, and by caricaturing his foibles, it makes him appear extremely ridiculous. According to Allibone it was written by Dr John Wolcott or Wolcot, who usually wrote under the pseudonym of "Peter Pindar" and "was always ready to libel king, lords, or commons without mercy." There is however a MS. note, on the title of a copy in the Bodleian, stating that the author was "David Williams." This is probably a mistake, as Peter Pindar's name appears on the title of the 15th edition.

The following editions have been seen, all of which purport to have appeared in 1788, and contain 107 pages, viz. :—the 3rd (M.); the 5th (T.L.C.); the 7th (B.M.); the 8th (B.M.); the 9th (B.H.B.); and the 11th (J.P.W.).

The 14th edition (W.P.) is dated 1779, (a misprint for 1789). It contains pp. 106.

The 15th edition (J.P.W.), 1796, pp. 42, bears Peter Pindar's name on the title.

Title, one leaf; Guide, pp. 1-86; Appendix, pp. 87-104; Engraved Advertisements, 17 leaves. Folding Map, Frontispiece. Title almost the same as that of former editions, but the title on the wrapper is "A New Cheltenham Guide. Price One Shilling or with Map and Plates 1s. 6d. Weller, Library Saloon, Cheltenham." Pp. 1-66 are reprinted from the earlier 8vo. editions, and though some of the subsequent pages have been re-written, they have not been materially altered.

- [Another Edition also called the Third, entitled] Griffith's History of Cheltenham and its Vicinity. Dedicated by permission to Her Most Gracious Majesty Victoria Queen of England. Embellished with numerous highly finished engravings from drawings by the First Masters, and Maps of the Town, Vicinity and County. [Quot.] Third Edition. Oxford, 1838. med. 4to. F.A.H.

Two Titles, Index, List of Plates, Dedication, 4 leaves; Preface to the New Edition and Letters, pp. vii.-xvi.; Text, pp. 1-88.

This edition appears to have been entirely re-written. The plates do not always correspond with the list. In some copies plates are wanting or are misplaced or in duplicate; and other copies have in addition to the plates given in the list, "The Swiss Cottage, Cranham Woods" and "Capel Court, Cheltenham." The first title is included in the list of plates.

From a letter on p. xiv. it would seem that a second edition of this work dedicated to William IV., was published in 1835, but no copy has been seen.

Date, 1833, from Bodleian Catalogue. An advertisement of a Stranger's Guide to Cheltenham, published by Davies, dated 1830, has been seen in a bookseller's catalogue, but the date given may be erroneous. There is a copy in the Cambridge University Library with the same pagination and plates, but with slightly different title, dated in the Catalogue [1832.] The copy examined was evidently published soon after the passing of the Reform Bill of 1832. Some copies were issued, on inferior paper, without the plates.

1834. [Second Edition.] The Stranger's Guide through Cheltenham . . . And an Account of the Principal Places in the Environs with Maps of the Town and surrounding Country and seventeen superior Wood Engravings. By Henry Davies. Second Edition . . . demy 8vo. C.H.D.

[c. 1890.] Those Cherrington Bells. Tune—"Those Everington Bells."
s. sh. fol. W.P.

A song of 7 verses commencing "Those Cherrington Bells, those Cherrington Bells," printed by Blackwell, Nailsworth.

— Cherrington v. Avening. s. sh. fol. W.P.

A song of 8 verses (with chorus of 4 lines) commencing "There were five men of Cherrington." Pr. by W. Partridge of Nailsworth.

This and the preceding song relate to the theft of the treble bell from Cherrington Church by some Avening youths, who placed it in Avening Church Tower to make a ring of six. It was a popular belief in the neighbourhood, that if a bell could be removed from one church to another, there was no redress. The perpetrators were discovered and punished, and the bell was restored to Cherrington Church. See Ellacombe's Church Bells of Gloucestershire, pp. 144-5, where "Those Cherrington Bells" is reprinted, together with a later song on the same incident, entitled "The Rape of the Cherrington Bell."

The Catalogue of Charitable Deeds comprises a list of "Good deeds done to the Towne of Campden, in the County of Gloucester."

"Baptist Lord Hickes" was born in 1551 and created Viscount Campden in 1628. In 1608 he purchased the manor of Campden, and he erected near the town of Campden a magnificent mansion, which was burned to the ground during the civil wars. A rough engraving of this house was issued with Pt. I. of the Second Issue of the Bigland Continuations. Lord Hickes was created Viscount Campden a year before his death, which occurred in 1629. He was buried in Campden Church, where there is a costly marble monument to his memory.

1676. A True and Perfect Account of the Examination, Confession, Tryal, Condemnation, and Execution of Joan Perry, and her two Sons, John & Richard Perry, For the Supposed Murder of William Harrison, Gent. Being One of the most Remarkable Occurrences which hath happened in the memory of Man, sent in a Letter by Sir T. O. of Burton, in the County of Glocester, Kt. and one of his Majesties Justices of the Peace to T. S. Dr. of Physick in London. Likewise Mr Harrison's own Account, how he was Conveyed into Turkey, and there made a Slave for above two years; and then his Master which Bought him there, Dying, how he made his Escape, and what hardship he endured, who at last (through the Providence of God) returned to England, while he was supposed to be Murder'd; here having been his Man-Servant Arraigned (who falsly Impeached his own Mother and Brother as Guilty of the Murder of his Master) they were all three Arraign'd, Convicted, and Executed on Broadway Hills in Gloucester-shier. London, Printed for Rowland Reynolds, next Arundel-Gate, over-against St. Clements-Church in the Strand, 1676. sm. 4to. G.L.S. & F.A.H.

CIRENCESTER POST or Gloucestershire Mercury. Being an Impartial Collection of the most Material Occurrences, Foreign and Domestick. Together with an Account of Trade. Monday, July 25. 1720. To be continued Weekly. Vol. II. No. 37 Cirencester: Printed and Sold by Thomas Hinton, in Pye-Corner: Where Advertisements are taken in; and all manner of Books, Bonds, Bills &c are Printed and Sold. Likewise all Sorts of Writing-Paper is Sold Wholesale or Retail. Price Three Half-pence. sm. 4to. B.M.

Six leaves, paged [433]-444. There is a quaint woodcut head-piece (F. Hoffman delin. & scid) of St. John's Church and the houses of T. Master, Esq. and Lord Bathurst. The facsimile of the title-page (given in the l.p. copies of this work) is of the same size as the original.

If Bristol be left out of consideration, this is the first Newspaper ever printed in Gloucestershire, and also the first publication with an indisputable Gloucestershire Imprint. Hinton must have established his press at Cirencester two or three years before Raikes came to Gloucester. John Excell is said to have been printing at Wotton-under-Edge in 1704, but we know of no work bearing his imprint. The genuineness of the imprint "Gloucester: . . . Printed by T. Cobb, MDCCLXII." on the title of The Young Cobler of Gloucester, has been questioned, and probably with reason [Bibliographica, vol. ii., p. 302.] The first number probably appeared in 1718.

Unpagged. Seven leaves of the 1879 Almanac relate to Cirencester, the rest consists chiefly of Advertisements. One of these Almanacs contained an account of "Old Cirencester" taken from a County Directory of 1820 (probably Gell and Bradshaw's) with a print of Hogarth's celebrated etching of the Ram Inn as headpiece; followed by a useful list of events of local interest, entitled, "Memorabilia of Cirencester." It was established in 1855. Price 1d.

THE WILTS AND GLO'STERSHIRE STANDARD, and Cirencester and Swindon Express. Published weekly Fri. at 3 p.m. for Sat. Price 1d. Printed by the Proprietor, G. H. Harmer, Lewis Lane, Cirencester.

Pp. 8. Present size $23\frac{1}{2} \times 18$ inches. Established in Malmesbury on Jan. 23, 1837, as a 4 page paper, 26×18 inches, but removed to Cirencester a few years afterwards. On Jan. 31, 1852, it incorporated the Cirencester and Swindon Express and became an 8 page paper of its present size, and the price was reduced from 5d. to $4\frac{1}{2}$ d. The price was again raised to 5d. in 1853, but on the abolition of the Advertisement Stamp Duty, it was reduced in the same year to 4d., and on the abolition of the paper duty in 1861 it was reduced to 3d. It was again reduced to 2d. in Feb., 1882, and to its present price on Oct. 16, 1885.

Pp. 18. Mr Baker was born in 1807, and died Dec. 10, 1886. He spent almost the whole of his life at Hardwicke Court. He was the founder of the Hardwicke Reformatory (which was one of the first State-aided Reformatories in England), and he was instrumental in effecting many reforms in the criminal law. The Poor Law Conferences, now held all over England, had their origin in a Drawing-room meeting at Hardwicke Court.

1847. The Battle of Nibley Green: from the MSS. of A Templar; with a Preface, Notes, and other Poems, by J. B. Kington. London: Henry Colburn, Publisher. 1847. 8vo. F.A.H.

Title and Preface, pp. i-xxv.; Half-title and Dedicatory Verses, 2 leaves; Battle of Nibley Green, pp. 3-74; Other Poems, pp. 75-178; Notes, pp. 179-324. Valedictory note by Author, pp. 325-326.

The subject of the principal poem is an encounter which took place on March 20, 1470, near Michael Wood between William, the 7th Baron Berkeley, at the head of about 1000 men, and Viscount Lisle, at the head of a smaller force. The feud between the families arose out of a claim by the Talbot de Lisles to certain Manors in the possession of the Berkeleys. Viscount Lisle was killed in this encounter.

The Notes, which contain much interesting information, are on (1) The Forest Laws, pp. 181-207; (2) Villenage, pp. 207-251; (3) Kingswood Forest, pp. 252-268; (4) Philip Mede and John Shipward, pp. 268-293; and (5) Miscellaneous Notes, pp. 293-324.

Mede was a Bristol Merchant, of which City he was Mayor three times between 1458 and 1468, and for which he was M.P. 1459-1460. He died c. 1475. Shipward was also a Bristol Merchant. He was Sheriff in 1429 and 1441, Mayor in 1444, 1455 and 1463, and M.P. in 1453, 1459 and 1460. He died c. 1476.

Painswick

PART I.—GENERAL LITERATURE

1623-24. An Act to confirm a Decree in Chancery made by Consent of the Lord of the Manor of Painswick, in the County of Gloucester, and his Customary Tenants. [21 Jas. I. c. 15 Priv.]

1660. The Customs of the Mannor of Painswick in the County of Gloucester, decreed in Chancery, in the eleventh year, and established by Act of Parliament in the one and twentyeth year of the late K. James, are declared . . . 12mo. F. A. H.

Title, one leaf; Customs, pp. 1-21. At end "Printed in the year of Our Lord 1660." Black letter. Only two copies of this edition have been seen: the copy collated, of which the title is imperfect, and another, the title of which is wanting. The latter belongs to B. W. Cooke, Esq., of Brook House, Painswick.

1688. [Another Edition, entitled] The Custom of the Mannor of Paynswicke, Taken out Of the Decree in Chancery, and carefully Examined For the benefit of the Tenants or others that may be concerned. By Thomas Loveday, in the Year 1687. London, Printed in the Year 1688. 8vo. F. A. H.

Title and Royal Assent to Decree in Latin and English, pp. 1-3; Customs pp. 4-54; Attestation on p. 55. The following errors in pagination occur. Pages 18, 19, 22, 23, 26, 27, 30, 31 are wrongly numbered 22, 23, 18, 19, 30, 31, 20, 27 respectively. This edition of the Customs is scarce, though not as rare as the earlier edition. A copy sold at a public Auction for £2 c. 1888.

[Another Edition c. 1810, entitled] The Customs of the Manor of Painswick, contained in a Decree made in the High Court of Chancery, in a suit between The Lord of that Manor, and the Copyhold Tenants. Examined with an Exemplification of such Decree. Together with Observations on the Laws respecting Copyhold Tenures in General, so far as such General Laws concern the Customs of that Manor. By Thomas Croome. Stroud: Printed by W. S. Wilson, Bookseller.

Vol. xiv., pp. 13-28, "Fearon v. Webb." This was a suit instituted by the Rev John Fearon to establish the legality of his election to the Vicarage of Painswick and to compel the Trustees of the Advowson to present him. It decided that the right of electing the Vicar of Painswick was in the Inhabitants of the Parish who paid Church and Poor Rates and who had attained 21 years of age. It was heard Jan. 25 and Feb. 2, 4, 1802.

On the back of the copy examined is a letter from Mr Neville, dated April 12 1819.

1825. The Peaceful Valley: or, The Influence of Religion. A Narrative of Facts. By a Clergyman of the Church of England. Wellington, Salop: 1825. 12mo. F. A. H.

Title, one leaf; Text, pp. 3-137; Frontispiece, "The Peaceful Valley." This book was written by the Rev. Hugh Stowell. It describes the good effects on the condition of the inhabitants of a village in the "peaceful valley" produced by a Sunday School which had been established by a Mr W—— about 1805. It is alleged in these pages that this was the first Sunday School established in England. The Village referred to is Sheepscombe and "the neighbouring town" with its "stately spire" (see p. 6) is Painswick. According to MS. notes in a copy formerly in the possession of the late Mr J. D. T. Niblett of Haresfield Court, this Mr W—— was a Mr Webb, and the Mr and Mrs N—— repeatedly mentioned were Mr and Mrs Neville. Mr Neville was sometime incumbent of Sheepscombe, and the frontispiece represents Mrs Neville on her way to the Sunday School (see p. 21). "The much-to-be-venerated Bishop of G——" (see p. 35) is Bp. Ryder, and "Poor Mary W——" (see p. 56) is Mary Wiggle. "Joseph R——" (p. 72) is Jos. Richins, and "Molly M——" (p. 101) is Molly Mallard.

1831. The Annals of my Village: being a Calendar of Nature, for every month in the year. By the Author of "Select Female Biography," "Conchologist's Companion," &c. London: 1831. 8vo. F. A. H.

Title and pref., pp. iv.; Text, pp. 1-353; Errata, one page; Index, pp. 355-362. Plates:—The Village, eng. by Josiah Neele, 352 Strand, Frontispiece; Cirrus clouds, p. 50; Cumulus clouds, p. 101; An antient beech in a lane leading from the Cheltenham Road to the hamlet of Paradise, eng. by Jos. Neele, p. 116. This work is by Mary Roberts, who resided for many years in Painswick. She was a descendant of a well known Quaker, John Roberts of Siddington, whose Memoirs went through many editions. Judging from the Frontispiece and the description, (p. 179), "My Village" is Sheepscombe, and not Painswick as has been sometimes stated. The book was published at 12s. Its present market value is about 5s.

1833. Painswick, Gloucestershire. Unparalleled Feat of Change Ringing! s. sh. sm. fol. F. A. H.

1869. A Limited Horizon. Chambers's Journal for 1869, pp. 705-731 etc. "Grimswold," the village on the Cotswolds in which the scene of this story is laid is evidently intended for Painswick. The description of the Church yard, the Court House, and the Roman Camp leave but little room for doubt on this head. There is also evidence that some of the characters were sketched from residents in Painswick, but the Editor, when taxed with this, denied it.

Richard Gwinnett was the son of George Gwinnett of Shurdington, where he resided the greater part of his life. In 1700 he became engaged to Elizabeth Thomas, but their marriage was deferred on account of his tendency to consumption. He died, unmarried, in 1717. During their engagement Gwinnett and Miss Thomas signed themselves in their correspondence with each other as Pylades and Corinna. The latter name is said to have been given to Miss Thomas by Dryden, to whom she had sent a copy of verses. She is mentioned by Pope in the Dunciad.

Title, and Explanatory Note, dated Aug. 23, 1815, 2 leaves; Text, pp. 5-38.

This tract contains the account of a wrangle which ended the existence of the Stinchcombe Hill Club. The Author had proposed some Member for admission to the Club who was objectionable to Mr. P. B. Purnell of Stanway Park. A dispute ensued, which occasioned the publication by the author of "Stinchcombe Hill: or, The Battle of the Balls: a Mock-Heroic Epistle, in two Cantos. Addressed to the New Voltaire; or, Modern Philosopher of Ferney." On account of this brochure, its author was expelled from the club. Mr. Purnell occupied a prominent position in the county. He was Chairman of Quarter Sessions for many years and his portrait now hangs in the Shire-Hall. The Club had been formed by him for Cricket, Archery and Quoits, and its Members met and dined together every Wednesday during July and August.

1867. The Chronicles of Gotham. 4to. W.N.S.

An Election Squib relating to the contest between H. S. P. Winterbotham and J. E. Dorington in 1867, when the former was elected M.P. for Stroud. Its phraseology is an attempted imitation of that of the Old Testament. Its name and style were probably suggested by The Chronicles and Lamentations of Gotham, 1817. Its authorship has generally been attributed to the late Mr. George Holloway, who subsequently represented the Stroud Division of Gloucestershire in Parliament.

- Speech of the Rt. Hon. Edward Horsman, M.P., at the Public Dinner given to him at Stroud, Jan. 31st. 1867. Westminster 1867. 8vo. F.A.H.

Pp. 31. The Speech is mainly a defence of his conduct in having joined the small group of Liberals who were known as the "Cave of Adullam." Mr. Horsman represented Stroud in Parliament from 1853 to 1867.

- Rules, &c., of the Stroud Constitutional Association. Instituted, April 29th, As Revised and Confirmed September 6th, 1867. Stroud: Pr. by J. Clark, King St. 8vo. pp. 7. F.A.H.

[Another Edition, entitled] Speeches delivered to Queen Elizabeth, on her visit to Giles Brydges, Lord Chandos, at Sudeley Castle, in Gloucestershire. With A Preface by Sir Egerton Brydges, Bart. M.P. K.J.

Thy sun is set; thy battlements are fallen,
And sunk to ruin thy Baronial Hall,
Once far-fam'd Sudeley! Waves the Cross no more
On thy reft Towers; nor grins the Leopard rude
His feudal fierceness on thy tumbling roofs.

Printed at the Private Press of Lee Priory; by Johnson and Warwick.

WINCHCOMB

1653. The Disputation at Winchcombe Nov. 9. MDCLIII. Salv. de Gub. l. 3. [Hoc enim . . . justitiæ]. This also we adde unto our Crimes, that being guilty in all things, we think ourselves Saints; and so, by vaine opinion of our owne righteousnessse, encrease our iniquity. Oxford, Printed by L. L. and are to be sold at Winchcombe by Nathaniel Hyett. pott. Svo. F.A.H.
Title, one leaf; Dr. Hammond Of Binding and Loosing, one leaf; "To the Ministers his Opponents," [signed Clement Barksdale and dated Nov. 16. 1653] one leaf; "A true Account of a Dispute at Winchcombe-parish-Church November 9. 1653. Written by a carefull Observer November 11. and Printed with Licence November 16. for the satisfaction of the People at and neere Winchcombe," pp. 1-31; Additions etc, pp. 32-39; To his Congregation at Sudeley-Castle, one leaf.
The last leaf is signed "C.B." and as the author says "Scripsi 23 Novemb. die S. Clementis, natali meo 45. An. Ch. 1653," there was possibly an earlier issue without the additions. The disputants were Clement Barksdale, Minister at Sudeley, on the one part, and Mr. Helme, Minister at Winchcomb, Col. Aileworth, J.P., Mr. Tray, Minister at Oddington, Mr. Wells Minister at Tewkesbury, and Mr. Chaffy, Minister at Naunton, on the other part, and the discussion turned chiefly on the right to administer the Sacraments and the institution of the Episcopacy.

There is another edition, two copies of which are in the Bodleian and one in the British Museum, identical in all respects with the above, except that "by Edmund Thorne" appears on the title, in lieu of "at Winchcombe by Nathaniel Hyett."

In a copy of this work sent by the late Mr. Dent to Sir Thomas Phillips the catchword on the page preceding "To the Ministers his Opponents" is "A." This led Sir Thomas to infer that the copy was imperfect, and he expressed this opinion in a letter to Mr. Dent, dated Aug. 7, 1851. But all the 4 copies in the Sudeley Library (2 first and 2 second editions) and one copy in the British Museum (1968. a. 16) have the same peculiarity. The right catchword "To" however occurs in another copy in the British Museum (4331. aa.), in 2 copies in the Bodleian, and in Mr. Hyett's copy of the first edition. In these last named copies p. 34 commences with "Queries upon the Covenant" and the catchword on the preceding page is "To."

1654. — The Second Edition enlarged with some papers both before and after. London. Printed by T. W. and are to be Sold at Oxford by Edmund Thorn, and at Winchcomb by Nathaniel Hyet.

The page preceding "To the Ministers his Opponents" [e4 verso] is blank, and the catchword on the page before [e4 recto] is "A."

Pp. 3-47 are a verbatim reprint of pp. 1-33 of the first edition, and the first part of the Additions, pp. 18-50, are a reprint of pp. 32-33 of the Additions to that edition. The last pages of the Additions to the first edition, comprising "Queries upon the Covenant" and "To Mr. A. P." will be found in the preliminary matter of this edition on 16 verso and 17 recto and on d7 recto—e2 recto respectively. The Additions to this edition contain much new matter chiefly consisting of quotations from Standard Authors and notes by Barksdale on theological and moral subjects.

LIST OF PLATES

Title, as above.

Dedication in Latin to George III.

South view of Woodchester Church, and Mr Wathen's House from the Parks, with a distant view of Rodborough, at the head of page 1.

I. Map of the Roman Stations, Roads and Buildings within xv. miles of Woodchester.

II. South East view of Woodchester.

III. View of Woodchester from Selsley Hill.

IV. North-east view of Woodchester.

V. Plan of Woodchester Churchyard and the adjacent Fields, showing the extent of the Roman Building discovered there.

VI. Plan of Roman Building discovered at Woodchester.

VII. Fragment of South side of Great Mosaic Pavement.

VIII. Parts of the same on an enlarged scale.

IX. Fragment of the North side of the same.

X. The whole design of the great Pavement restored.

XI. Mosaic Pavement of the Cryptoporticus.

XII. Pavements of two Passages.

XIII-XX. Mosaic Pavements.

XXI. Ornaments used in the several Mosaic Pavements.

XXII-XXIII. Plans and Sections of Flues for heating the Rooms.

XXIV. Remains of two Hypocausts, with specimens of the Funnels used in them.

XXV. South-west view of the remains of a Laconicum, or Sweating Room.

XXVI. Plan of the Laconicum and Bath, with section of the latter, and specimens of the Bricks used in the former.

XXVII. Plans and Sections of the Flues of the Laconicum.

XXVIII. Specimens of Walls, &c.

XXIX. Fragments of Columns.

XXX. Fragments of Marbles.

XXXI. Fragments of Stucco.

XXXII. Fragments of Pottery.

XXXIII. Various Fragments of Pottery, &c.

XXXIV-XXXV. Various Utensils, &c.

XXXVI. Fragments of Sculpture.

XXXVII. Fragment of a Group of Cupid and Psyche.

XXXVIII. Fragment of a Statue of Diana Lucifera.

XXXIX. Another representation of the same.

XL. Fragments of a Statue and a Bust.

Tail Piece. Reverses of Medals, containing figures of Bonus Eventus and Diana Lucifera.

All of the above plates (including title and dedication) are coloured, excepting head-piece and the tail-piece and pls. XXIX. and XXXVI.-XL. Pls. I.-III., VI. and IX.-XII. are double page plates.

This is a splendid work. It is printed on thick and very good paper and most of the plates are beautifully executed.

It was published in boards at 10 guineas. Lowndes says that 12 copies were executed in a superior manner to resemble drawings, but this is questionable. His statement that there are 19 plain and 3 coloured plates is obviously inaccurate. In every copy which we have seen there are 7 plain and 3 coloured plates.

Some proofs, unlettered, of the headpiece of Woodchester Church, were struck from the plate in another state. In these there are two men at work in the foreground uncovering the Roman wall.

The work was reviewed in the Gentleman's Magazine for 1797, pp. 1033, 4.

A copy was sold by auction in 1888 for £2 5s. and another in 1891 for £3 7s. 6d. Mr. Niblett's copy realised £7 5s. in 1884.

Gloucestershire Printers

The following list comprises the names of printers who have printed books, &c. described in vols. i. & ii. of this work, issued from presses within the county of Gloucester. The dates after the name of each printer indicate a period (though not always the whole period) during which he was undoubtedly printing in the town under which his name is placed. The dates, when not enclosed in brackets, are taken from his local works; when in brackets they are derived from some other source.

A list of Bristol printers will be given in vol. iii.
